

Super~Conscious

A white-label production studio for agencies.

Brand systems, content programs, and digital products.

WHO WE ARE

Your embedded production studio.

We're a small team of designers, animators, and engineers who sit inside your agency as a silent production partner. We handle the build — brand systems, content programs, and digital products — while you own the client relationship, start to finish.

No handoff lag. No offshore quality issues. No conflict of interest. We work under your name, within your process, and on your timeline.

Digital products

THE PRODUCT.

Marketing sites & landing pages, CMS-driven websites, product UI, web apps & internal tools, design systems, interactive prototypes, e-commerce builds, design-to-build with engineering.

Brand systems

THE FOUNDATION.

Brand identity & visual systems, messaging & narrative architecture, motion identity, sales decks & pitch materials, scalable creative the in-house team can extend.

Content programs

THE ENGINE.

Social content (static, carousel, Reels, Stories), short-form & long-form video, paid ad creative & campaign management, email newsletters & nurture sequences, blog, editorial & thought leadership.

What the partnership gives you.

CAPACITY

Take on more without hiring.

Win bigger scopes without adding headcount. We add production capacity you can flex up or down based on your active pipeline — no long-term employment risk, no ramp time.

QUALITY

Deliver better work.

Elevate what you're shipping. Production-ready brand systems, award-caliber content, engineered digital products — delivered on brief and ready to go out under your name.

MARGIN

Protect your relationships.

We stay invisible to your clients. No direct contact, no credit, no conflict. You stay the trusted partner and keep the full margin on the work we produce.

01

Fully white-labeled.

We don't touch the client relationship. No emails, no calls, no Slack with your clients unless you explicitly want us to. The work goes out under your name — always.

02

We plug into your process.

Your PM tools, your naming conventions, your delivery format. We adapt to how you work, not the other way around. Minimum onboarding friction, maximum output from day one.

03

Scale when you need it.

Month-to-month, project-by-project, or retainer. We staff to match your active pipeline. Add capacity fast when you win big, pull back when things are quiet. No long-term headcount risk.

Creative direction

Brand strategy, concept development, and the creative through-line that holds a project together from first idea to final asset.

Writing

Naming, taglines, scripts, voice, and body copy. The verbal half of a brand, shaped to earn its space across every surface.

Design

Identity systems, visual languages, layout, and typography. The framework that lets every piece of output feel like the same brand.

Illustration

Custom marks, characters, editorial pieces, and full toolkit systems built to extend the brand into any context.

Film & photo

Direction, shoots, casting, lighting, and styling for stills and moving image, from product capture to campaign storytelling.

3D & motion

Modeling, rendering, and motion design across formats: brand films, product explainers, social spots, and platform-native work.

Animation

Cel, rigged, and procedural animation built for any platform, from social loops to broadcast spots to interactive experiences.

Editing

Story structure, pacing, and color. The post-production craft that turns footage into a finished piece with rhythm and intent.

Production

Planning, scheduling, budgeting, casting, and the on-the-ground logistics that turn a creative brief into a finished, shipped piece of work.

Engineering

Marketing sites, web apps, internal tools, and bespoke builds. Production code that ships fast, scales cleanly, and is built to last.

Every scope is built from the same per-role rate card. Full visibility into what goes into every line item — so you can mark up cleanly and confidently.

World Within

World Within is a mission-driven platform building a fairer future through capital, culture, and community. They fund innovative companies, produce powerful stories, and convene communities to spark systems change that serves people and planet alike.

- BRAND SYSTEM
 - Built a brand with the emotional weight needed to carry a mission-driven platform.
- CONTENT PROGRAM
 - Developed a content program to convert awareness into community and donations.

Photon

Photon Health is a digital prescription platform that gives patients more choice, providers more efficiency, and healthcare teams more control. We partnered with Photon to lead a full rebrand and redesign of their marketing site, helping reposition them as a modern, patient-first alternative to legacy e-prescribing systems. The new brand balances technical credibility with human clarity, making Photon feel as intuitive and transparent as the experience it delivers.

BRAND SYSTEM

Built a credible, design-led brand for a platform rewriting the prescription network.

DIGITAL PRODUCT

Designed the product UI for a system that moves prescriptions faster and more cleanly.

Transcend

Transcend Therapeutics is a neuroscience-focused biotech company developing breakthrough treatments for PTSD and other neuropsychiatric conditions. With a science-first approach and a strong clinical pipeline, Transcend needed a brand that could communicate credibility to investors, clarity to partners, and purpose to prospective hires. We worked closely with their founding team to build a cohesive brand identity, develop fundraising and recruitment materials, and design a website that brought their mission to life.

BRAND SYSTEM

Crafted a breakthrough neuroscience brand ready for clinical and consumer markets.

Zbiotics

We helped define ZBiotics' campaign foundation and strategy, making complex science feel accessible and human. Now we support ongoing content and storytelling that earn attention, deepen engagement, and fuel growth as ZBiotics expands in consumer health and biotech.

Industry Standard

Industry Standard is a direct-to-consumer denim brand known for its clean fits, accessible pricing, and everyday essentials. We partnered with the team to lead a full-scale rebrand that honored the simplicity of the original while sharpening every detail for a more elevated and enduring presence. From custom hardware and refreshed typography to updated packaging, product photography, and a redesigned website, we helped evolve the brand’s visual and verbal identity across every touchpoint.

BRAND SYSTEM
Rebuilt a denim brand identity from the ground up – visual system, voice, and all.

CONTENT PROGRAM
Launched an organic content program to grow community and drive repeat purchase.

Wonderwerk

Wonderwerk makes the dreamwork. Issamu and Andrew came to us with a House of Fermentation: natural California wines made for friends, music, and whatever comes next. We rebuilt the identity to match that energy, easy-drinking and anti-pretentious without losing the seriousness of the craft, then built a content program around the bottles, the trade, and the social channels that keep the party moving.

BRAND SYSTEM

Gave a California wellness brand a visual identity with real energy and edge.

Coldwater Club

We helped define Coldwater Club's brand foundation and positioning, shaping its elevated identity and distinct tone in a crowded beverage category. Now we support ongoing content that earns attention, builds cultural relevance, and fuels growth as the brand expands its community.

Path Projects

We partnered with Path Projects, a premium running apparel brand, to create a flexible animation toolkit that could scale across their digital platforms. The challenge was to maintain Path’s clean, distinctive aesthetic while giving their team the ability to quickly roll out motion content for campaigns, social channels, and email without reinventing assets each time.

CONTENT PROGRAM

Created a motion content system that made a performance apparel brand look and move differently.

Novi

We helped Novi define its brand foundation and positioning. Now we produce ongoing content that earns attention and builds authority in the CPG commerce space.

CONTENT PROGRAM

Transparent product information is essential.

Smallhold

Smallhold is a mushroom company redefining how specialty produce is grown, distributed, and enjoyed, with sustainable, tech-enabled farms placed directly in urban environments. We’ve partnered with Smallhold since day one, helping shape the brand from its earliest stages to its nationwide retail success. Our work has spanned every step of their journey: developing the original brand identity and packaging system, designing investor decks, marketing content, product storytelling, and digital experiences.

BRAND SYSTEM

Established mushroom as a premium, culturally relevant ingredient through brand-building.

CONTENT PROGRAM

Built a content engine that made Smallhold a household name in specialty produce.

Banzen

Banzen is a cannabis dispensary built on the idea that cannabis can be premium, approachable, and rooted in community. Inspired by the role of a trail guide, Banzen acts as a specialist who helps customers navigate with confidence. They partnered with us to build a brand and website that brought this perspective to life while setting them apart from competitors.

BRAND SYSTEM

Built a dispensary brand that makes cannabis feel premium, approachable, and local.

Print Parlor

Print Parlor is a custom merch company focused on making high-quality, design-led products for brands, artists, and everyday creators. We partnered with the team to build a brand that matched the craft of their work: thoughtful, elevated, and built to last. From a bold visual identity to a clean, conversion-focused website, we helped shape a business that treats merch like a creative medium, not just a transaction.

BRAND SYSTEM

Repositioned a merch company as a design-led business with an identity to match.

DIGITAL PRODUCT

Built a clean, conversion-focused site that turned browsing into buying.

TBT

TBT Pharma is a clinical-stage dermatology company developing novel topical therapies by repurposing proven treatments. We partnered with the founding team to bring clarity and credibility to their early-stage story: developing a brand identity, investor deck, and marketing site that positioned TBT as a serious player in the clinical dermatology space.

TBT PHARMA

BRAND SYSTEM

Brought scientific credibility to a clinical-stage dermatology company through brand design.

Yura

YURA is an AI-powered healthcare benefits platform helping employers reduce costs while empowering employees to make smarter care decisions. We partnered with YURA from the ground up, working across product development, branding, and marketing to help bring their vision to life. From shaping the product UX to defining the brand identity and building out investor materials, we acted as an embedded creative and strategic partner during their earliest stages.

BRAND SYSTEM

Designed a brand that makes AI-powered benefits feel approachable and trustworthy.

DIGITAL PRODUCT

Built a digital benefits platform that changes how employees access their coverage.

Arbitrum — Rebrand

Arbitrum is the leading Ethereum Layer 2 network. When we came in, the technology was years ahead of its category but the brand was not yet matched to it. We rebuilt the visual language from the ground up: identity system, color, type, illustration, and motion. The rebrand had to feel as confident, technical, and forward-looking as the product, and flexible enough to live across every surface the team would need to grow into.

BRAND SYSTEM

Built a brand identity ambitious enough for the leading Ethereum Layer 2.

Arbitrum — Marketing Dept Videos

To launch Arbitrum's Kaito Leaderboard, we created a high-energy announcement video that broke down the mechanics, sparked community engagement, and helped drive one of the protocol's top-performing campaigns. Built around the idea of "Yap-to-Earn," the campaign rewarded creators for driving conversation around Arbitrum across socials. We helped turn a complex program into a clear, compelling story, scripting and producing a launch video that introduced the leaderboard, explained monthly themes, and invited the community to participate.

CONTENT PROGRAM

Turned crypto conversation into shareable video content across Arbitrum's owned channels.

Drip

We helped bring DRIP to market, shaping the launch narrative and producing the core video content that introduced the platform to the ecosystem. Today we support DRIP with ongoing content that earns attention, drives participation, and fuels sustained growth.

CONTENT PROGRAM

Sublime

We helped expand Sublime's brand, evolving its identity and narrative to match the sophistication of its product. The result is a sharper, more scalable system that strengthens its presence in the cybersecurity market and supports continued growth.

BRAND SYSTEM

We built the Dimly Lit Chophouse brand from the ground up, shaping its identity, tone, and visual system to feel distinct and immersive. Today we support ongoing content that earns attention, builds cultural momentum, and drives growth around the restaurant's unique positioning.

BRAND SYSTEM

Openhouse

Arbitrum Open House is a builder-first initiative designed to welcome new developers into the ecosystem and guide them from idea to launch. We partnered with the Arbitrum team to create the entire foundation for the program: naming, branding, the website, and the social campaign. The goal was to make Open House feel approachable yet aspirational, giving builders a clear reason to get involved and the confidence to take the next step. The result combined a bold, event-ready identity with a flexible digital presence that could scale across channels, driving awareness and excitement while maintaining a cohesive look and feel throughout.

DIGITAL PRODUCT

Built a launchpad site for the Arbitrum builder community, designed to drive event sign-ups.

Offchain

We led the rebrand from Offchain Labs to Offchain, simplifying the name and sharpening the positioning. The new identity signals precision and authority, aligning the brand with the foundational technology it represents.

BRAND SYSTEM

Carbonite

We helped refine Carbonite's brand foundation, leveraging efficiencies established through our work with Webroot to strengthen positioning and alignment. Now we are helping Carbonite earn attention and accelerate growth in a competitive market.
